Clip out your coupons neatly, and fill them out clearly and plainly, remembering that in the event of a tie for any prize between two or more contestants, neatness and clear writing will win the judges' favor. The picture is to be a part of the coupon. Do not detach the coupon from the picture.

Send no answers whatever to the Advocate until the contest is ended by the publication of Picture No. 70. Any answers received before that time will be destroyed and will not be counted. Read the rules carefully.

Rules of the Booklovers' Contest.

Any person may compete in this contest who lives either in Licking, Delaware, Knox, Coshocton, Muskingum, Perry, Fairfield or Franklin counties, Ohio, except employees of the Advocate or members of their families.

Answers to the picture must be written upon the coupon blank which will be printed every day with each picture during the seventy publication days the contest will last. Both picture and blank must be clipped from the paper, and the blank properly filled in with the name of book and the author's name together with the name and address of the contestant written clearly and plainly in the space provided. Not more than one person's name may be written on any coupon.

Each picture will represent the title of only one book, but there may be some pictures that suggest the title of several books. For the benefit of contestants, and to allow for this variety of solution, any contestant may give as many as five answers to any picture, at will; but not more than one solution may be written on any coupon. If the contestant gives two answers as likely to include the correct one, two coupons must be used; if three answers, three coupons, and so on.

In each instance, whether the contestant gives one answer or five answers to any picture, both the pictures and coupon must be used for each of the answers; and not more than five answers to any picture will be permitted. If any one of the five answers that may be given to any picture is correct, the contestant will be credited for the correct solution and will not have the incorrect ones counted against his or her chances. Prizes will be awarded to every contestant, by the Contest Judges, who sends in the largest number of correct answers upon the smallest number of coupons. Thus, if a contestant gives the correct answers to 70 of the pictures and uses only 70 coupons, that contestant will rate higher in the prize awards than one who uses 140 coupons or any higher number up to 350 for supplying the 70 correct answers.

If two or more persons, supplying the same number of correct answers, have used the same number of coupons for their answers, the highest rating will be given to the one whose answers are most neatly prepared, in the opinion of the judges. No contestant will be allowed to submit more than one set of answers, which must include not less than 70 or more than 350 coupons, with accompanying pictures. Positively no solution may be sent in to the Contest Editor until every one of the seventy pictures has been printed. Answers in complete sets, as just specified above, will then be received in this office, and should be addressed to "Contest Editor," Booklovers' Contest, Advocate, Newark, Ohio. The awards will be made strictly according to the correctness of each set of answers, and the correctness shall be determined by the Finding List, the catalogue issued by us as governing the Booklovers' Contest. This catalogue can be obtained from the Advocate office for 25c (27 cents if by mail), and will include in its 5000 titles every one used in the contest. Awards will be announced in this newspaper after the close of the contest.

It is not absolutely necessary to send in solutions on blanks clipped from the Advocate, as duplicate pictures may be drawn by the contestant, if he or she so desires, or duplicate blanks may be obtained at the office of the Newark (Ohio) Advocate.

Experience is a good asset, unless you have exchanged a bank account for it.

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush kidneys if bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

Theaters

Big Musical Hit Tonight.
Accounts from other cities herald Jos. Weimer's production of "Oscar and Adolph" as the best of all the cartoon musical entertainments. A different idea has been followed and the latest Broadway reviews have been taken as models for this new musical comedy.

"Oscar and Adolph" have taken with them in flesh and blood to the stage all their co-workers in the field of laugh-making now parading daily in the newspaper comics. Mr. Skygark and his note-book carefully following the strange wanderings and speech of the "earth-beings," Diana Dillpickles, the versatile young lady of a thousand pursuits and all the rest of the fun-makers from cartoon-land are introduced into the review.

"Oscar and Adolph" are surrounded by a "gorgeous garden of glorious girls," a feature of which is the Eight Dancing Rosebuds. Novel singing and dancing numbers have been staged and the best talent from the cabarets and vaudeville has been recruited for this production.

The Tango is "tangoed" in all its startling novelty. Nor is forgotten the Maxine and Hesitation Waltz, the latest sensations of dance-mad Broadway.

"Oscar and Adolph" are portrayed by the famous vaudeville team of Rice and Cady, for years headliners in the Keith two-a-day. An attractive offer lured them from the variety stage to create these newest of cartoon stage characters.

"Oscar and Adolph" is the attraction at the Auditorium, this evening.

"Girl of My Dreams" Returns.
Frank Smithson, the veteran stage producer, declares that the musical play "The Girl of My Dreams" which he staged, is the most perfectly constructed piece that he has ever seen. So far it has not been necessary to change a line of the book or lyrics, or the position of any of the music. This is very remarkable, as most musical comedies of today are bits of artistic theater mosaic in which the producer is the master mind, aided by the manager, actors, scenic artists, costumes and, lastly, authors of book, lyrics and music.

Smithson is an Englishman, whose first work in New York was "The Girl From Paris," which he produced in 1905 at the Herald Sprague Theater for E. E. Rice, playing the part of the irascible Major. Since then his record has been one of continued success as a musical comedy stage director.

Novelties, youth and melody are said to be the chief ingredients of "The Girl of My Dreams."

"The Girl of My Dreams" has all the "crooks" stopped. There will be a reform in the "crook" kingdom when they all get to see this new farce which Cohan and Harris will present at the Auditorium, Thursday, March 19th. The plot of "Stop This" is a very original one. An unmirthed old man who is afflicted with kleptomania, and a bridegroom who is also afflicted with the same desire to take things which don't belong to him, and a real thief who endeavors to get away with everything valuable he can find. The stealing and losing of valuables get so contagious that when you reach in your pocket for your gloves you wouldn't be a bit surprised if you found a diamond bracelet or a jeweled ear trumpet. The family gets so nervous that at times it looks as if everybody on the stage has St. Vitus dance. Messrs. Cohan and Harris have provided a splendid cast which includes John Webster, John Findlay, Charles Brown, James H. Manning, Susanne Willa, J. K. Hutchinson, Nan Francis, Fanchon Campbell, Dickie Delaro, Lella Frost, Mitchell Lewis, William Wagner, Lionel St. Clair, James T. Ford, and other players of prominence.

The castist is always the other fellow.

Two Denison Star Athletes Play Last Basketball Game In One-sided "Red" Victory

Granville, March 16.—In a game which was very one-sided and rather listless at times, Denison defeated Wooster Saturday evening in Swaney gymnasium 84 to 7. At no time did the upstate quintet display any exceptional ability. The "Big Red" team took the lead and maintained it throughout the contest.

Two of Denison's best athletes played their last game of basketball. Black and Captain Prouty made their farewell bow before a large crowd of enthusiasts. Black excelled all of his previous record of this year by shooting 14 field goals. He played a stellar floor game and was a big factor in building up the score.

Prouty although he secured less field goals than any other Denison player gave an excellent exhibition of guarding and made it possible for Black and Thiele to cage the ball.

REESE

ter the start of the game. Black tossed the oval through the hoops after a minute of play. Goodman scored the first point for Wooster on a foul goal. Reese then dashed the length of the court to successfully cage the ball single handed. Thiele followed with another field and Black added two more.

Reese, Prouty and Thiele scored in rapid succession. Black shot one and Jones after a long dribble scored another. Jones shot two baskets and a foul after some pretty passwork Reese caged the oval, then Black tossed an easy one near the basket.

Goodman secured another point for Wooster on a foul. Thiele scored a fielder. Jones tossed a foul. Thiele after a hard try caged the ball again. Black became jealous of Thiele and added a goal to costume and entertained the spectators with some late comedy. At the beginning of the second half Goodman of Wooster shot a foul. Reese scored three field goals. Black followed with four. Captain Prouty made a difficult shot from the side. Reese made two and Black added two more. Then Jones made a long shot three-fourths the length of the floor. At this juncture Wooster scored their first field goal. Crooks caged the ball on an easy attempt. Thiele, Reese and Black came in with three more for Denison. Jones concluded the scoring, his last attempt being another long shot.

BIGGS

The work of Jones in long basket shooting was the most sensational feature of the evening. Reese played a fine game at left guard. He dribbled well and his guarding was excellent. The lineup:

Denison Position Wooster
Black r. f. Crooks
Thiele l. f. Prouty
Prouty c. Donnelly
Jones r. g. Kennedy
Reese l. g. Carlton

Substitutions—Biggs for Thiele. Field goals—Black 14, Reese 11, Thiele 8, Jones 6, Prouty 2, Crooks 1, Carlton 1. Foul goals—Jones 2, Goodman 3. Time of halves—20 minutes. Referee—Edwards of Chicago. Attendance—600.

Delaware, March 16.—The glory of the final event of Wesleyan's high school tournament, here Saturday was Marietta's. Her score 24 to 17 against Mansfield, champion of the northern division, was beyond question of the entrance of luck, and evinced what was believed to be true—that Marietta this year possess the championship high basket ball team in the state.

Following the game Director Dixon presented the loving cups to the captains for first and second place respectively. This is the third out of seven Wesleyan tournaments in which Mansfield has won a place, winning first in the initial tournament, and second the following year. Lineup:

Marietta Mansfield

MEMORIES OF NAVAL HEROES TO BE HONORED

Six New Torpedo Boat Destroyers Will Be Christened After Former Sea Fighters.

Washington, March 16.—The names of Porter, Tucker, Conyngham, Wadsworth, Jacob Jones and Wainwright, prominent in the annals of American History, have been selected by Secretary Daniels for the six new torpedo boat destroyers now building.

In the case of the Porter, both admiral Porter, of Civil War fame, and his father, Captain David Porter, who served in the early wars of the republic, will be honored. The Wainwright was so called in honor of three men, Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright, killed in action in 1862; a son of the same name killed in an expedition against pirates on the coast of Mexico in 1870; and Richard Wainwright, commander of the flagship Hartford under Admiral Farragut at the time of his death.

Captain Samuel Tucker was distinguished both during the revolutionary war and the war of 1812. Captain Gustavus Conyngham was a plucky sea fighter of revolutionary days. The Wadsworth was named after Lieutenant Henry Wadsworth, who lost his life in the war with Tripoli; and Lieutenant W. S. Wadsworth who served on the constitution in her famous fight with the Guerriere.

Captain Jacob Jones, for whom the sixth destroyer is named, was in command of the Wasp when she captured the British sloop-of-war.

POLICE ARREST 6 IN EFFORT TO STOP VIOLATION

In an effort to stop the illegal sale of liquor by bootleggers, police officers Sunday arrested a half dozen suspects and lodged them at the city prison pending an investigation.

As a result of the arrests, an affidavit was filed against Earl Smith, but the case was continued until a further investigation was made. One other affidavit may be filed as a result of the investigation.

Smith, according to the police, was concerned in the delivery of a quart of liquor to another individual Sunday but whether he received money for it, has not been determined.

The police dragnet also included Ed "Dink" Leonard who was charged with drunk and disorderly conduct. He was fined $25 and costs in police court and ordered committed to the Columbus workhouse. Smith drew a fine of $5 and costs on a drunken charge and was ordered committed to the city prison.

Eight other drunks, seven for loitering and two for investigation made up the morning's slate. Most of the defendants drew suspended sentences or were dismissed and ordered out of town.

Elmer Martin was fined $1 and costs Saturday afternoon on a drunk charge and was given a hearing in police court Monday morning on the additional charge of abusing an officer. All State Officers Present at Opening Session in Hermon's Hall Monday Morning.

Fifty delegates representing lodges of Haymakers in various parts of the state are assembled in Newark today attending the annual convention when a new constitution will be adopted and new officers elected and the next place of meeting selected.

While not affiliated with or recognized by the Independent Order of Redmen, membership in the latter organization is one of the requisites to membership in the Haymakers.

All the state officers were present when the first business session was called to order in Redmen's hall Monday morning. The state officers are: State Chief Haymaker—W. E. Bryson, Findlay.

Vice Chief Haymaker—W. Geiselman, Springfield.
State Past Chief Haymaker—Albert Retch, Cincinnati.
State Collector of Straws—Andrew Wohlhausen, Columbus.

State Collector of Bundles—E. R. Abramhausen, Cleveland.
First Farmer—S. C. Richardson, Newark.

Second Farmer—L. S. Holst, Marletta.

Guard to Hayloft—John D. Poeth, Lorain.

Guard to Barnyard—John Timm, Toledo.

The election of officers and selection of the next convention city will be a part of the business mapped out for the afternoon and will not be concluded until a late hour.

Tonight a big parade will be a feature of the convention, and arrangements are made to have several hundred in line, headed by the Buckeye band.

A class of about fifty candidates will be on hand to be educated in the mysterious profession of haymaking. The local lodge of Haymakers held a house from 10 o'clock Sunday morning until 10 o'clock Sunday night when the delegates were received and assigned to quarters.

OHIO PEACH CROP NEARLY DESTROYED IS EXPERT'S REPORT

Columbus, March 16.—"The Ohio peach crop for this year was almost entirely destroyed by the recent zero weather. The crop will not be half as large as that of last year, which was a fairly good one," said N. E. Shaw, chief of the state nursery and orchard inspection department in a statement issued today.

About the only part of the state where the orchards were not damaged much by the cold spell is Ottawa county and vicinity, which is located in the peach belt in the north and escaped because the peach buds were not far enough advanced to be killed, according to Mr. Shaw.

Whole orchards in southern and eastern and northeastern parts of Ohio are ruined, so far as this year's crop is concerned he says. In orchards in Southern Ohio containing more than 10,000 trees, not a single tree could be found which escaped the biting effect of the weather.

The orchard was examined by a former state inspector who today made a report to Chief Inspector Shaw. Reports received from inspectors in various parts of the state all tell of almost entire destruction of the crop.

TAFT LECTURES IN MINNESOTA; HAS BUSY WEEK

Minneapolis, Minn., March 16.—Five days of activities were begun here by Former President William H. Taft, on his arrival this morning. The prime reason for Mr. Taft's coming was to deliver four lectures before the University of Minnesota Law School, beginning this afternoon. He has, however, accepted invitations to dinners, luncheons and other functions sufficient to keep him well occupied throughout the week.

The former President was welcomed by a committee on his arrival and escorted to a breakfast tendered by William H. Eustis, and attended by a number of professional and business men. At noon he was guest of the university club.

This afternoon he attended the funeral services of the late Charles A. Willard, whose death occurred late Friday night. Mr. Taft and Judge Willard were warm personal friends, the two men serving the federal government together in the Philippines, the former as governor general and the latter as justice of the island school.

RAILROADS MUST SELL HOLDINGS IN COAL COMPANIES

Columbus, March 16.—The special United States district court, composed of Federal Judges Warrington, of Cincinnati; Knappen, of Michigan and Dennison, of Indiana, have handed down a formal decree, dictating the method of dissolution of the alleged stock coal trust.

The Hocking Valley, Chesapeake & Ohio, and Lake Shore railroads were given sixty days to dispose of their holdings in the Sunday Creek Coal company, upon the penalty of having a receiver or commissioner appointed at the end of that period to make the sale.

It was ordered that either the stock of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad in the Kanawha & Michigan railroad be purchased by the Lake Shore at once or the interest of both companies be sold absolutely.

The court annulled the March agreement as to division of freights and reserved decision on the question of reciprocal trackage where the Hocking Valley and the Toledo & Ohio Central use each other's tracks in running coal cars from Chauncey to Fostoria and back.

The government entered formal exceptions to the ruling and gave notice of appeal. It was pointed out that this was done only to preserve possibility of no action being taken.

NOT GUILTY IS VERDICT OF THE JURY

Mayfield, Ky., March 16.—A verdict of not guilty was returned here today by the jury in the second trial of May Copeland and her fiancé, Lucian Turk, charged with having murdered Miss Copeland's brother-in-law, Hugh Atchinson, a wealthy farmer in Carlisle county, Ky., last July. Miss Copeland testified that she shot Atchinson, fearing he intended to do her harm. The state attempted to prove that Turk fired the shot that caused Atchinson's death. At the first trial the jury disagreed.

$20,000,000 Enterprise Will Be Sold By Order of Court

Pittsburg, Pa., March 16.—Judge Charles P. Orr in the United States district court here today issued an order authorizing the receivers to sell the American Waterworks and Guarantee Company April 15. Hilary B. Bruno was named as master to conduct the sale and approve claims against the corporation. The American Waterworks and Guarantee company is a $20,000,000 enterprise owning water distribution plants in a number of cities in the west and south and became involved in financial difficulties when the First-Second National Bank of Pittsburg closed last July.

This practically ends the receivership of the company according to the plans of the stockholders protective committee.

Claim Woman Is Suffering From Acute Hysteria

Los Angeles, Cal., March 16.—Detained on a general charge of suspicion, Mrs. "Ella" Splawn-Miller-Odell, was held in the city jail today. She had created a sensation by claiming she was Dorothy Arnold, the New York society girl who vanished in 1910. Detectives are seeking a physician and another man said by Mrs. Odell's husband, Charles O'Dell, to be responsible for his wife's condition.

Physicians who examined the young woman said she was suffering from acute hysteria apparently induced by hypnotic influence. That she had recently been under the influence of a powerful drug was the assertion of the police, who said the young woman admitted this.

Mrs. Odell's repudiated her husband, her sister and even her mother yesterday.

CANNOT TAKE NEW CENSUS TO INCREASE NUMBER OF SALOONS.

Columbus, March 16.—Officials of a township may not take a new census now for the purpose of using it as a basis for the number of saloons to be allowed to the township under the license law, Attorney General T. S. Hogan said today in an opinion. Officials of Washington township, Lucas county, which has ten saloons, wanted to take a new census and thought they could find enough persons for 11 saloons. The attorney general also declared a village may or may not decide a tie vote on an ordinance in council.

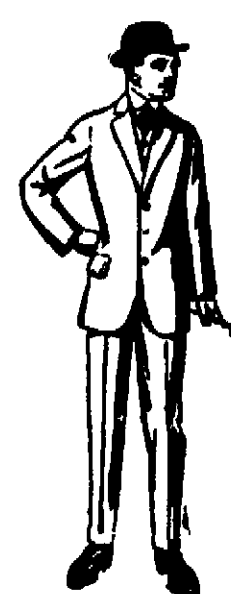

KEEP LOOKOUT FOR "CHLORINE ECZEMA."

Cleveland, March 16.—Scores of people in this city are suffering from a new disease which physicians have dubbed "chlorine eczema." It is epidemic, they say, and spreading rapidly. Drinking city water which has been treated with chlorine is responsible, doctors say. The city adds this preparation to the water to insure against typhoid. The disease makes its appearance in the form of a rash on the face and arms of the patient.

Congressional Primaries In the New 17th District

Announcement is made of the candidacy of Judge Curtis McBride, a prominent Democrat of Mansfield, for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the new 17th district. Judge McBride, by thus becoming a candidate, will divide the vote of Richland county with Judge Brucker, of the same county, who has some supporters who have been making extravagant claims for him. The real fact is that Judge McBride is as influential and popular in Old Richland as any political leader in that stable Democratic stronghold.

But the position of the Advocate, which has openly announced its support of the re-nomination of Congressman Ashbrook is not changed by the announcement of the candidacy of Judge McBride.

The Advocate reiterates its former explicitly stated stand, that the conduct of the primaries should be clean, fair and out in the open, and Judge McBride of Mansfield, has a reputation for fair methods in politics that entitles him to confidence on these lines.

This paper has consistently maintained that Wm. A. Ashbrook will be re-nominated by an overwhelming vote, and every development in the situation goes to show the certainty of the Congressman's success.

There is already a line-up of Democratic voters in all parts of the district of such magnitude, character and significance that practically makes it certain that Mr. Ashbrook will receive at the coming Democratic primaries a substantial plurality vote in every one of the six counties comprising the new district.

As the success of the Democratic nominee at the succeeding election in this year 1914 is of primary importance, the assurance that Mr. Ashbrook will lead his ticket at the election, as he has always done at every election when he has been a candidate, his re-nomination must be

A get-together note from the G. O. P. reunion of standpaters: "The organization of Republican standpaters favors D. Meade Massie for Governor, but Congressman Frank Willis, who voted with Uncle Joe Cannon and the other standpaters, declared war on the organization and announced his candidacy for the governorship."

On Second Thought

A man can't hit anything with a revolver except himself or a friend.

A farmer takes pretty good care of his blooded stock, but he is not so particular about himself.

A woman's idea of "reform" is that it is something to make the men behave.

Tank Beverly says there is nothing he cares enough about to make giving it up during Lent a penance.

Woman's superiority seems to consist chiefly in the fact that she can pick up a hotter plate than a man.

Cooking is done mostly by women, and almost exclusively for men.

The Shamrock

By GRACE M'KINSTRY

(Copyright, 1914, by American Press Association.)

THERE are shamrocks made of paper, there are shamrocks made of cotton, And Irishmen who wear them show that Ireland's not forgotten.

But I've a real green shamrock that was sent me by my Mary.

The fairest maid in Ireland—she lives in Tipperary.

ST. PATRICK said the shamrock was indeed an emblem holy;

It showed so well the "three in one" to simple minds and lowly.

And Irishmen whose love for it will never fail nor vary,

They smile to see the shamrock that I wear from Tipperary.

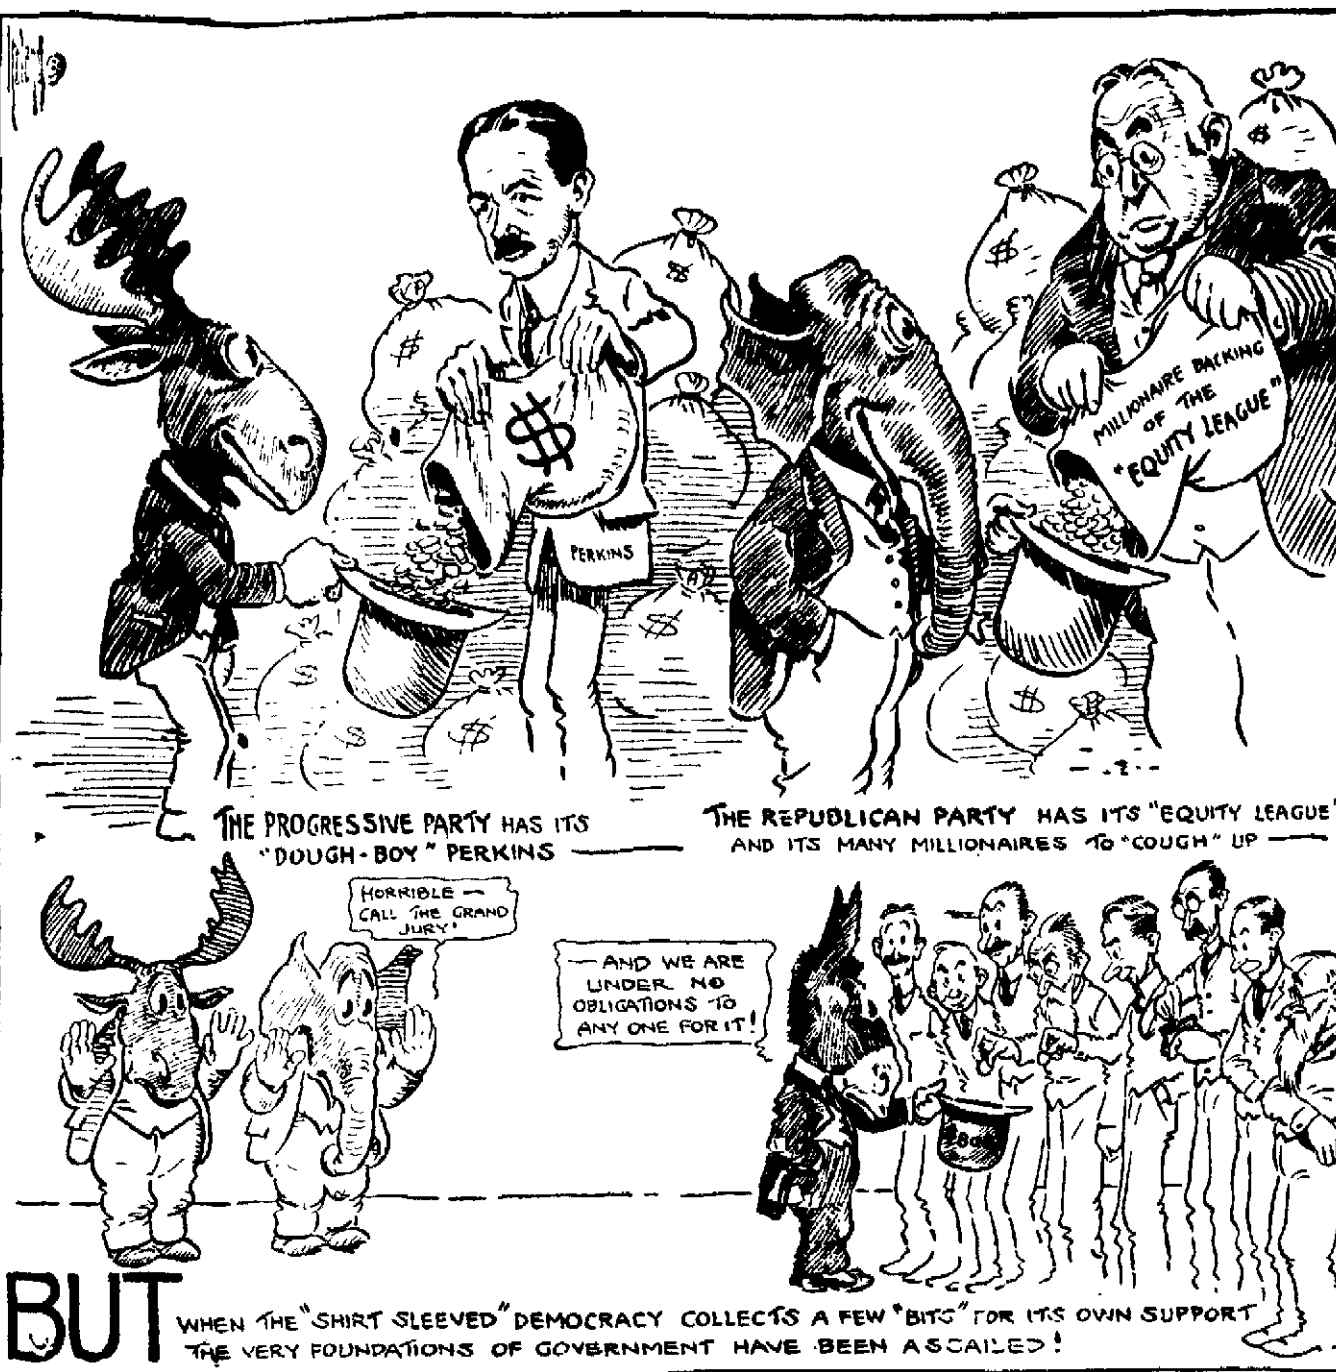

AND so St. Patrick's day, when we the shamrock leaves are wearing,

Though dark the day may chance to be, we never will be caring.

We're saying "God bless Ireland!" and I pray "God bless Mary,

Who sent this little leaf to me from far-off Tipperary."

MONDAY.

On Monday, after Sabbath rest, a man should go to work with vim, roll up his sleeves, pull down his vest, and show there are no flies on him. If happy fortune be his, he'll laugh to scorn "Blue Monday" woe, and he will say, "Now, watch my curves, and mark the swash that I shall show." Get started right on Monday morn, nor pause with grouches to condole; go, paint the fence or shell the corn, and work with music in your soul. Go forth among the busy men, and show them you can do your share, and when the Sabbath comes again, 'twill find you right side up with care. Ods bodikins! Beshrew the skates who start the week with idle hands! The Master of the Vineyard waits and for our labor makes demands. Tradition says that Monday's blue, but that to us should seem a joke, if we have useful work to do, and strength to bear our padded yoke. The man who has an honest task should never to a roar give vent, nor hide his face behind a mask of grumpiness and discontent. No mortal has a right to sick unless he has not work to do, or, having work, is too blamed sick his daily duties to pursue.

SOME INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT ST. PATRICK.

St. Patrick consecrated no fewer than 350 bishops for Ireland. Several historians attribute the success of St. Patrick in Christianizing Ireland to the fact that he always made it a point first to try to gather the ruling chiefs into the fold.

St. Patrick used to clothe himself in haircloth and sleep on a rock, spending his time in prayer when not engaged in the work of converting Ireland's pagan rulers.

When St. Patrick was passing through Granard he learned that at Magh-Slecht, not far distant, a vast concourse was engaged in offering worship to the chief idol, Crom-Crunch. It was a high pillar of stone, covered with slabs of gold and silver, with a circle of twelve minor idols around it. He proceeded thither and with his crozier smote the idol, which crumbled to dust. A second idol fell to the ground.

Equal Suffrage.

A splendid gain for the woman's movement was the unanimous endorsement by the pastors of Columbus churches of a resolution offered by Rev. H. W. Kellogg of the Broad Street Methodist church. Most of the Protestant churches of the city belong to the Union.

Signing the resolutions were the following ministers: Rev. Mr. Kellogg, Rev. J. J. Tisdell of the Wilson Avenue Church of Christ; Rev. R. L. Whitney of the South Congregational church, and Rev. Tilsten F. Chambers of the first Baptist church.

The resolutions read in this wise: Believing that the present order, which excludes an equal part of intelligence and far larger per cent. of moral spiritual force from citizenship in our republic, is unjust.

Believing that this intelligence and spiritual energy is not only important to, but is essential to the common good, in the councils of our State, and nation as it is essential to the best interest of the family and the church and

Believing that in the great conflict that is now on for social and political reform, these forces are imperative to our victory for righteousness and purity, therefore Resolved: That we the Ministerial Association of Columbus, Ohio, offer to the women of our state who are engaged in the battle for these rights and sacred privileges, our fervent support and pledge them our hearty co-operation, in every way consistent with our profession, to secure equal suffrage.

Wisdom from Washington

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, March 16.—[Special.]—There are rocks ahead for the trust legislation which is being urged by the administration.

"Just wait until these trust bills get in the house," remarked Congressman Fitzgerald of New York, "and some one offers an amendment exempting labor unions and farm organizations from the provisions. Then what becomes of the trust legislation, as about all of us are going to vote for that proposition? Then along will come the sundry civil bill, just as it has in the past two congresses, and the labor people will insist that no part of the money appropriated for the department shall be used in prosecuting labor unions. That has been up in the last two appropriation bills, and it will undoubtedly go into the next one."

The attitude of many members of congress makes it sure that the exemption of labor unions and farm organizations from operations of the trust acts are to go into one of the anti-trust bills. President Wilson has expressed himself as opposed to any discrimination of that kind, and the administration bills which were presented to congress did not contain these provisions.

May Resort to Caucus.

About the only way in which a discrimination in favor of labor unions could be presented is a resort to the Democratic caucus, with pledges enough in advance secured through the efforts of the administration to prevent the amendment from being inserted. Of course, the measures could be debated at great length in the senate and possibly the provisions which the administration opposes could be eliminated. At the same time the labor unions are strong in the present congress, and it looks as if they are going to have their way.

Parcel Post Divides Parties.

The parties are all split up in the senate on the parcel post question, but the majority rallied to the support of Postmaster General Burleson. Democrats of the conservative and radical type differed with one another, as did the Republicans. The only apparent party alignment was that of the determination of the Democrats to sustain the administration, for the fight against the present method of conducting the parcel post was strong.

Humphrey's Surprises.

Everybody supposed that Congressman Humphrey of Washington was a straight, hard headed legislator without any frills of any kind, but a recent speech published in the Record shows that he can do something in word painting. It was about the flag, and this is what he said: The flag of our country! How fitting the colors! The red, the passionate red of the queenly rose, blushing beneath the amorous kisses of the wooing sun. The red, the sacred red of the heart's blood of the hero that stains the field of battle as he dies in defense of home and country. The white, the perfect white of the unadorned snow. The white, the pure white of the beautiful lily with its golden heart of fire. The blue, the beautiful blue in woman's eyes, in the eyes of the one we love. The blue, the true blue of the infinite heavens that arch above us. With stars as stainless as those that shine in the fathomless abyss of a cloudless night. This is your flag and my flag.

That's going some, but as if to outdo himself the Washington congressman put in some verse.

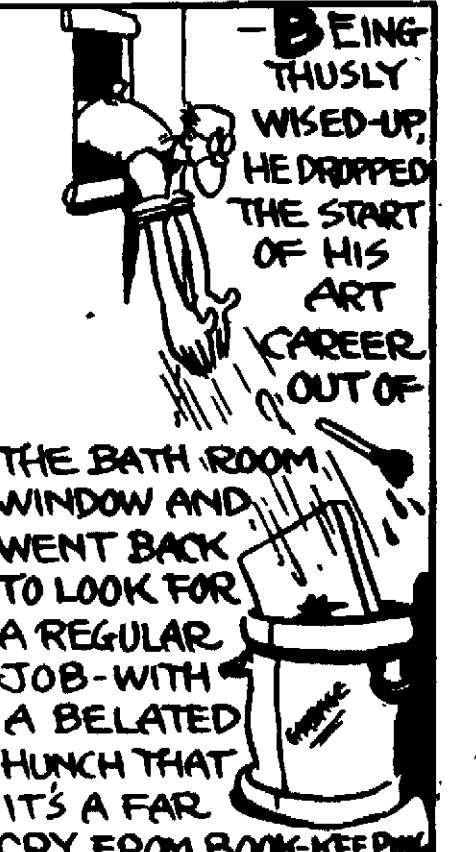

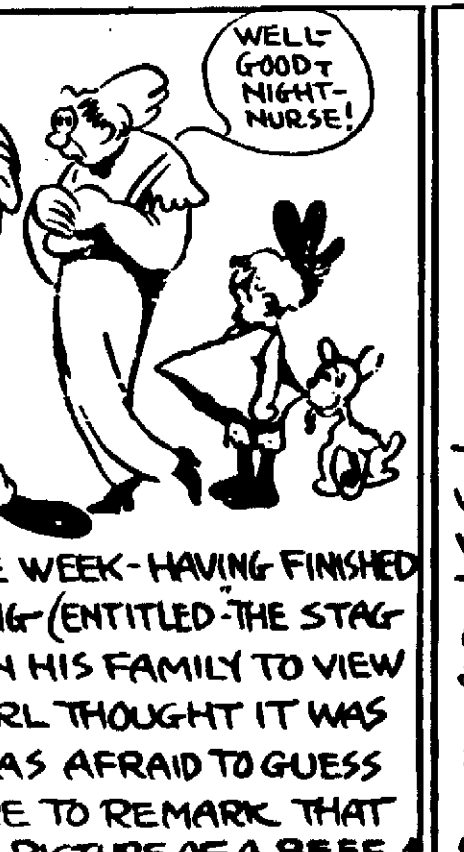

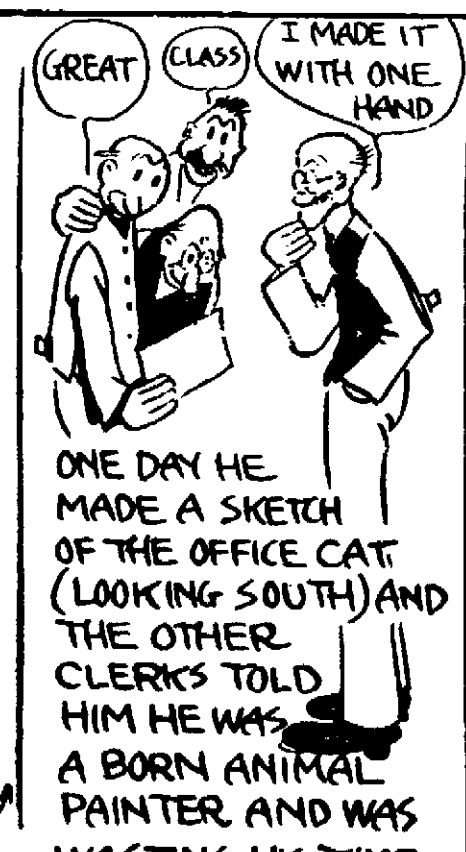

Beds and Bedding.

Senator Clark of Wyoming was telling a story about the parcel post and said: "All of us out in our country know that every working man has his roll of blankets that he calls his bed and bedding. In many places there are no hotels. His home is where night overtakes him." It surprised the senators, because very few were aware that there was still in existence a class of men who carried their bed and bedding. But there are still sections of the west where a man moves his household effects in one great roll.

"Time is money," quoted the Wise Guy. "Yes," said the Simple Mug, "but lots of fellows will spend more time trying to pass a plugged nickel than it would take them to earn $5."

The services were conducted by Rev. J. H. Jewett, pastor of the church, and by Rev. S. J. Fisher of Pittsburgh, whose friendship with the inventor dated from the time when they were poor boys rooming together in a Pittsburgh boarding house.

FRENCH WOMEN WANT DECENCY IN THE STYLES

(Associated Press Telegram)
Paris, March 16.—A league of patriotic French women has issued a strong appeal to women to use every means to discourage indecent fashions. The appeal refers to Cardinal Amette's recent suggestion that all right-minded French women band themselves together to fight indecency in dress, particularly emphasizing France's long renown for good taste and elegance, hitherto so justly deserved. This is given as the chief reason for rising to the defense of the national honor in modesty as against the present barbarous indecencies and eccentricities of the fashions.

A MILLINERY HINT.

It is rarely possible to do much with old artificial flowers, but sometimes the foliage may be massed with new buds or blossoms and will do for a hat which is to be worn only occasionally. I always advise my clients to beware of cheap flowers, and to buy any sort of trimmings in preference to them; not because the other things are prettier or more fashionable, but because the best of flowers are injured by the sun, rain and the dust, and after a few weeks of continuous wear, begin to look tawdry. I say a milliner in The Mother's Magazine. I invariably frown upon a suggestion to purchase imitation Neapolitan, because dampness reduces them to mere rags, and also upon the very coarse weaves of straw which keep their shape indefinitely, but are easily broken by batins. The woman who pays five dollars for a Milan or ten dollars for a leghorn has a hat of so smart shape that it will require scarcely any trimming, may probably be worn in that state for two successive seasons, and thereafter be several times pressed over.

BOY OF FIFTEEN CONFESSES TO PETTY FORGERY

Confessing to a series of petty forgeries, one of which was committed last Saturday afternoon, a short time after he had been released with a warning lecture from Judge Hunter in juvenile court, Albert Serpe, 15, son of Carlo Serpe, a construction gang foreman, was sentenced Monday to a term in the Boys' Industrial School in Lancaster.

Probation Officer John Dwyer took the lad to Lancaster, Monday afternoon.

Many of the alleged forgeries were on checks to which the boy had signed his father's name. Despite this the father pleaded with the court to suspend sentence on his son, but Judge Hunter thought otherwise, in view of the boy's conduct and repeated falsehoods to the court.

One of the first of the youthful offender's misdeeds to be discovered was his attempt to pass an alleged forged order for $5 on George Fromholtz, East Main street restaurateur. A forged check is alleged to have been passed on Christ Doneff, South Third street grocer; one on the First National bank, in which the lad's father had an account, and a reported attempt at passing a false check on the Crayton pharmacy, South Park Place.

The lad's father was fined $5 and cost of his son's prosecution, on a charge of contributing to his delinquency. It was admitted by the senior Serpe that he and his wife had left the boy alone in their home here for the past two weeks, while the father was away at work. This the court declared to be carelessness on the part of the parents which was unwarranted.

A revolver was taken from the boy when he was arrested by Officer Dwyer. He at first told the court he had obtained possession of the weapon by sending away coupons for it. Monday he declared he had purchased it of a Newark hardware man.

Could the lad's statement be relied upon as a basis for investigation, it is likely the hardware dealer who sold the boy the gun would be prosecuted, said Judge Hunter.

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

Envy's Idleness.

"There were a lot of women at the wedding of the bride," observed the Bachelor Girl, as she entered her little apartments and switched on the light.

"Because she is married?" asked the Bachelor, cynically.

"Because she married money," replied the Bachelor Girl. "A lot of the girls at our bridge club were talking about her the other day. They seem chiefly envious because she wouldn't have anything to do."

"I don't quite catch your meaning," said the Bachelor.

"It does sound queer," laughed the Bachelor Girl. "But lots of women who envy rich women, envy their not having anything to do. Just as if being idle is a blissful state of existence."

"Perhaps these envious ones are over-worked."

"In some cases that may be true," said a woman dead tired from over-work who was envious of being a bit envious of an idle sister. "But in most of the cases, I do not believe that weariness is at the root of the envy. I think it is something else, though not many of the envious ones tell us their real cause. They just think it must be blissful to have some one open the door for them, and show them into the reception room, and fetch and carry, and make one's wishes and hints. Yet when you come to think of it, what a dreadful existence it must be to just sit around and have everything done for you. Think of never having the pleasure of going to the door to greet a friend, or never socially showing him out, or never driving your own automobile, or never waiting out even a pocket handkerchief. Think of eternally sitting around and being waited on! Is it any wonder that wealthy women take to clubs or bridge, or anything that will give them something to do? But lots of people look upon their condition with envy, and think how glorious it would be to have nothing to do. And half of the girls are wishing they were in married shoes, so that they might live in a palace with a servant for almost every wish. Seems to me such an existence would be nothing."

"You refuse to marry a rich man then, do you?" asked the Bachelor quickly.

"I would, if it meant I had to sit and twiddle my thumbs the rest of my days. I want something to do in life besides push a button. Seems to me this business of sitting on a throne and having everything handed to you on a silver tray would be awfully monotonous."

"No more monotonous, I think, than being over-worked."

"Yes, I think so. There is rest and variety in working. But most of the women who envy the idle rich are not over-worked. The girls who are envying Mildred are not over-worked. They are just sort of envious on general principles, without figuring out, that after all, there is really nothing to be envious about."

"MOTHER" JONES DEPORTED FROM STRIKE DISTRICT

(Associated Press Telegram)

Trinidad, Colo., March 16.—"Mother" Mary Jones, noted woman strike leader who has been a military prisoner in San Rafael hospital here since January 12, was put aboard a train quietly last night and sent out of the coal strike district. Her departure became known today. It was said this action was taken at her request and on orders of General John Case.

"Mother" Jones was taken to Denver.

The transportation of "Mother" Jones from the strike district came after the woman labor leader had declared her intention of leaving the district permanently. General Chase had said ever since her arrest that she was at liberty to leave when she desired. The military authorities proceeded with the utmost secrecy to remove "Mother" Jones and the announcement was not made public until today.

"Mother" Jones was arrested here Jan. 12, after having been deported from the district the week before, and told not to return. Since her detention, several efforts have been made to obtain her release.

REPORT CONFIRMED.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Denver, Colo., March 16.—Adjutant General John Chase confirmed today the report from Trinidad that "Mother" Jones had been sent out of the strike zone adding that she was somewhere in Denver. He stated that the action was taken at the request of "Mother" Jones.

ARRIVES IN DENVER.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Denver, Colo., March 16.—That she was deported from Trinidad, that she never asked to see the governor, that she was accompanied to Denver by a militia officer, taken to a hotel and was not told whether she had been released; that she expects to return to the strike zone soon, were emphasized points in a statement made today by "Mother" Mary Jones, noted strike leader who has been a military prisoner at San Rafael hospital in Trinidad since Jan. 12.

Her statement was given to newspaper men at the conclusion of a conference with her counsel, Horace N. Hawkins, attorney for the United Mine Workers of America. Immediately thereafter she left for the state house to call on Governor E. M. Ammons.

General Chase stated that "Mother" Jones would be arrested should she return to Trinidad.

At 11:30 the appeal in the "Mother" Jones habeas corpus case had not been filed with the state Supreme court.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

The secret of keeping young—is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle.

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are getting in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio. All druggists.

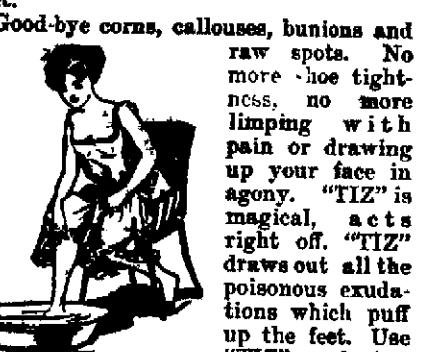

Well—"They have only been married a few months, but they don't seem to agree very well." Believe "No, they are always quarreling about the best way to make each other happy."

DIGGS PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO ASSAULT CHARGE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

San Francisco, Cal., March 16.—Maury I. Diggs, former State architect, already under conviction of white slavery in connection with a Sacramento - to - Reno - elopement, pleaded not guilty in the Superior Court to a charge of assault preferred against him by Ida Peering, a girl who swears she is but 17 years old. Walter Gilligan, Diggs' companion on the night of the alleged assault, and accused by the Peering girl of the same offense, also pleaded not guilty.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

A few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur brings back its vigor, color, gloss and thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant, remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant. London, March 16.—The Swedish bark Trifolium was driven ashore on Land's End Sunday night, and Captain Olson and four sailors were drowned. Six members of the crew were saved. MASONIC CLUB TAKEN OVER BY TEMPLE COMPANY

At a meeting of The Newark Masonic club, held last Saturday evening it was decided, after some considerable discussion, to turn the club and club property over to The Newark Masonic Temple company, the vote on the matter being unanimous with all present. It has been expected, when the new temple was completed to make this change, but circumstances having arisen which made the move necessary at this time, the matter was taken up and passed. Immediately after the adjournment of the Masonic club the directors of The Newark Masonic Temple company met and considered the proposition. After much discussion it was decided to accept the proffered property and take charge of the club with the full understanding among the club members that the dues of fifty cents a month now being paid would be continued until after the Masonic temple was completed and the bodies had taken possession and entered the new home.

It was also decided to enter upon a campaign for new members for the short time that the club will occupy its present quarters, which is not expected to be very long.

WASHING WON'T RID HEAD OF DANDRUFF

Dissolve It, That's Best Way

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better. If you want to preserve your hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for nothing destroys the hair more quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everyone notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

CAREFULLY TREAT CHILDREN'S COLDS

Neglect of children's colds often lays the foundation of serious lung trouble in later life. On the other hand it is harmful to continually dose delicate little stomachs with internal medicines or to keep the children always indoors. The ideal way to avoid colds is to keep plenty of fresh air in the bedroom and at the first sign of trouble apply Vick's "Vap-O-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve over the throat and chest, covering with a warm flannel cloth. The body heat releases antiseptic vapors that are inhaled all night long, opening the air passages and healing the inflamed membrane. In addition Vick's is absorbed through the skin taking out the soreness and tightness. Vick's contains no harmful drugs whatever. At drugists—25c, 50c, and $1.00.

EARTH TO BECOME MAN'S PARADISE

How This Will Be Done Is the Gospel Message.

THE WORLD'S REGENERATION

The Earthly Paradise—Lost Through Disobedience—Redeemed at Calvary. Messiah's Great Work—The Restoration of Paradise—"The Story of the Cross"—Importance of Character-Development—Its Effect on the Future Life—The Heavenly Paradise. Who May Attain It—How—The Alternative of Paradise, the Second Death, Everlasting Destruction.

March 15.—Pastor Russell today depicted the beauties of Paradise, so well presented in his free Photo-Drama. His text was, "I will make the place of My feet glorious." (Isaiah 60:13). He said:

Paradise is an Eden, the abode of bliss. It was lost through the sin of our first parents, but the gracious promise of our great Creator is that this condition of earthly bliss shall be re-established—not merely in a little corner of the earth, but that the whole earth shall become the Paradise of God. Heaven is God's Throne and the earth is His footstool, and He assures us, "I will make the place of My feet glorious"—"in due time." How this will be done is the Gospel Message.

The Divine Promise to Father Abraham, that all the families of the earth shall be blessed through his Seed, includes the thought of man's full restoration to Divine favor—as before he sinned and fell, before Paradise was lost, before man came under the curse, or sentence, of death. The Jews hoped that Messiah would come and constitute their nation the earthly Kingdom of God and re-establish Paradise with Palestine as its center. They expected that under His wise administration, using their nation as His instruments, the Divine Law would extend to all and, by bringing all people into harmony with God, would gradually bring all back to the Paradise state.

The Garden of the Lord.

It was in full harmony with this that the dying thief asked the Lord to remember him when He should come into His Kingdom—the Kingdom whose dominion would establish righteousness in the earth, and thus convert the world, under Divine favor, into the Paradise of God. Our Lord's answer was that verily, truly, his request should be granted—the thief would yet be with Him in Paradise. Paradise has not yet been established; for God's Kingdom has not yet come to earth; it delays until a certain work for the Church shall be accomplished.

It is not the Divine purpose to make of the nation of Israel God's Kingdom in the highest sense of the word, though it will be actively identified with the Heavenly Kingdom as its earthly representative. God is selecting during this Gospel Age a new nation, Spiritual Israel, from every nation, people, kindred, tongue. At our Lord's First Advent and subsequently, He gathered from Israel such as were sinfully and ready for the Kingdom; since then He has been taking out from other nations enough to complete the foreordained number of the elect Church. These will constitute the Kingdom per se, and it cannot be set up or established in power until this election, or selection, shall have been completed and the Elect "changed" or glorified on the spiritual plane, by the power of the First Resurrection.

Paradise, or the Garden of the Lord, not only represents that earthly condition which will be restored for the benefit and blessing of the natural man—as the reward for his obedience to the rules of immanence's Kingdom during the Millennial Age—but it also applies to the glorious and Heavenly position which God has in reservation for the Church. Thus we read in the Book of Revelation that God has promised to the overcomers of the Church, "To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the Tree of Life, which is in the midst of the Paradise of God."

The World's Regeneration.

This is a grandly beautiful and symbolic message and promise, assuring us of the happiness and Heavenly bliss in eternal-life conditions of all who are faithful followers of Christ in the present Age—walking in His footsteps in the Narrow Way. The Book of Revelation pictures the history of this Gospel Age down into the Millennial Age and shows us Paradise re-established, with the Heavenly City, the glorified Church, as its center, or capital. The River of Life is pictured as flowing from under the Throne. On either bank of its crystal waters of Truth and Grace grow the Trees of Life, after the manner of Eden of old.

The future state will all be Paradise. The completeness of blessedness will first be manifested in the Church on the spiritual plane, and secondly, it will be manifested in the Ancient Worthies on the earthly plane—Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and all the holy Prophets perfected, the earthly representatives of the Heavenly Kingdom. Gradually the Paradise condition shall fill the whole earth. The wilderness shall blossom as the rose, the solitary places shall be glad, and streams shall break forth in the deserts, as we read in Isaiah 35.

The morally lame shall learn to walk in the paths of righteousness. Yea, they shall leap for joy as they come to a knowledge of the grace and goodness of God. The world's eyes of understanding shall be opened and their deaf ears shall be unstopped, that they may see and hear the Goodness, the Mercy, the Justice and the Love of our God. "The willing and obedient shall eat of the good of the land," but evil doers shall be cut off in the Second Death. Gradually the boundaries will

WHAT TO DO FOR NEURALGIA

The one great symptom of neuralgia is pain; the one great cause is lack of nutrition for the nerves, in plain language—starved nerves.

There are two things to do for any form of neuralgia. Apply heat to the affected part to soothe the pain, and feed the nerves by taking a tonic containing the elements needed by them. Heat, as afforded by hot flannel, hot water bags, etc., soothes the inflamed nerves into temporary quiet. It does not cure. Not until the nutrition of the nerves is restored will the inflammation subside.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills furnish to the blood the needed elements and the blood conveys them to the nerves. The only way of getting food or medicine to the nerves is through the blood. Remember that.

Neuralgia is a general term. It means inflammation of a nerve. It is given different names according to the nerve affected. Sciatic neuralgia is of the sciatic nerve. Application of heat will soothe the pain in all forms of neuralgia, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure the condition that caused it.

be spread abroad until they will include the whole earth. Gradually the number enjoying Paradise will increase until, in the end of the Millennium, the entire race of Adam shall experience the privilege of God's Love and Mercy through Christ.

St. Paul, like St. John the Revelator, was caught up to Paradise in a vision, and saw the glorious things of the future Age, which he was not permitted to explain to us, because the due time had not yet come. Neither was St. John the Revelator permitted to reveal fully the particulars of the Paradise condition. He could merely give us a few symbolical hints or suggestions respecting the glories of Paradise restored.

Redemption Through Christ.

We have already noticed that Paradise was lost through disobedience to the Heavenly command. Life, Eden bliss, Divine favor and fellowship, were all lost to Adam and to us, his children, under the death sentence. There was no hope for any of us more than for the brute beast; for while the latter was born to die, man, created with possibilities of life eternal, was sentenced to the loss of all. Indeed, under the demoralizing influences of sin and death, we find many of the human family more degraded than the brute creation and apparently less worthy of Divine favor. But God, rich in Mercy in the great Love where-with He loves us, has provided for mankind a recovery from sin and death, while He has made no provision for the future life of the brute creation.

God's provision for man's recovery from the sentence of death is the story of the "Cross of Christ." Because a man had sinned, the Redeemer must be a Man. Because the penalty was human death, a Perfect Man must die for the sinner's release from the death sentence, to uplift the willing out of sin and death conditions—up, up, up to fellowship with God and eternal life. Because the race of Adam inherited naturally his mental, moral, and physical defects, therefore none of his posterity was worthy of eternal life. But in the Divine arrangement, as Adam involved all of his children and their Paradise home in the wreck of sin and death, so a redemption has been effected through Christ.

The great work of Messiah will, therefore, be the restoration of the world to all that was lost in Eden and redeemed at Calvary. The work of Restoration, St. Peter tells us, has been spoken of "by the mouth of all God's holy Prophets since the world began" and will be accomplished by Messiah at His Second Coming. (Acts 3:21.) But the Divine Plan changes not. Sin is still abhorrent to God and will always be so, and the Divine sentence is that no sinner shall have eternal life. Hence the offer of Divine grace is merely to all who may have a heart-desire for Divine assistance, resurrection, restoration, uplifting out of sin and death conditions to perfect conditions. These things will be accomplished only in those who are willing and obedient. Only such "shall eat of the good of the land"—the fruits of Paradise.—Isaiah 1:18-20; Acts 3:23.

Furthermore, it is the Divine arrangement for mankind, and a just one, that every good and noble deed in the present life works a measure of character-development which will be assistful in the future life, enabling the faithful the sooner to mount up to full perfection of earthly life. Correspondingly, every wilful sin, every violation of conscience and principle, works a demerit and impairment of manhood, which likewise will have its effect upon the future life in the difficulty of rising out of degradation to the heights of human perfection, Divine approval and everlasting life. If all mankind could appreciate these facts, what an influence it would have in restraining and governing self and in developing self control and true manhood!—Galatians 6:7.

The Divine Program.

Does some one inquire why He who redeemed Adam, his Eden home, and all his race, and who proposes a restoration of all, has not begun this Restoration work during the eighteen hundred years since the sacrifice of Himself? The Scriptures answer that during the interim another feature of the Divine Program is being carried out. The Lord is gathering the elect Church from Israel and all the nations to be Messiah's assistants in His Kingdom and in the gracious work of uplift—resurrection—restoration. This elect Church-class, first selected, is in the Scriptures called "a First-fruits unto God of His creatures." (James 1:18; Revelation 14:4.) The world of restored humanity will be the after-fruits.

The Scriptures exhort such as in the present time are blessed with the hearing ear, to give heed to the special invitation to the Elect. They exhort such as have the eye of faith to aspire to the crown of glory and joint-heirship with Christ that is now being tendered to a very select class. "He that hath an ear, let him hear." He that hath an eye, let him see. So many of us as have been blessed of the Lord with the ear of faith, the eye of faith let us rejoice in the blessed opportunity. Let us seek inward to make our calling and election sure to this Heavenly estate of glory, honor, immortality and joint-heirship with our Lord, the King of kings and Lord of lords!

Christ's Atonement.

Both the thieves crucified with our Lord lost their right to the original Eden, or Paradise, of God through Father Adam's disobedience, as did we all. Both those thieves were born in sin, shapen in iniquity and in sin did their mothers conceive them, as with us all. Both thieves were redeemed by the precious blood of Christ, as were we all; for Jesus "by the grace of God tasted death for every man." (He is the Propitiation for our sins [the Church's sins], and not for ours only, but also for the sins of the whole world."—Hebrews 2:9; 1 John 2:2)

Thus, as we have seen, the Redeemer has made provision for both of those thieves, as well as for all of us—all of Adam's race—to be recovered from the sin and death conditions of the fall, and restored to Paradise. The Church, called during this Gospel Age, may reach the spiritual Paradise, or highest condition of holiness and happiness. The two thieves and the remainder of mankind will have their opportunity during the Millennium. Their opportunity will be for a return to earthly life, perfection and happiness, and to an earthly Eden—world-wide. How much grander a work will thus result from our Lord's death than we had previously supposed!

Let none suppose, however, that those two thieves will enter Paradise on the same footing. While both were guilty of robbery, they were evidently dissimilar in the condition of their hearts. The one was hardened, as evidenced by the fact that he could speak so rudely to the Redeemer, whose face bespoke gentleness, purity and innocence of crime. "If Thou be the Christ, save Thyself and us!" (Luke 23:39.) Such cruelty implied a deep degradation of mind—implied that he was sin-hardened.

And yet we must remember that others of the multitude standing by used similarly cruel language. We must remember, too, that there are many thieves who are not caught; and that there are many, perhaps as morally wrong, as evilly intentioned, who, for fear of the consequences, never committed the wrongs. We can even suppose that some of the Scribes and Pharisees and Doctors of Divinity of those days were in God's sight much worse than the impenitent thief—murderers at heart and in deed. Yet of the latter St. Peter declared, "I wot, brethren, that through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers," when you crucified the Lord of Glory. "Repent ye therefore and be converted."—Acts 3:15-19.

An Earthly Paradise.

Ignorance, superstition and inherited depravity all bore down upon the impenitent thief to a degree which we are not capable of properly estimating. The Lord will judge him—both thieves—all mankind. The penitent thief will unquestionably have a twofold blessing: first, he will be blessed for his penitent attitude of mind; second, he will be blessed for his faithfulness in expressing that penitence and in showing mercy to our Lord in His distress. Our Lord declared that even a cup of cold water given to the least of His disciples shall have its reward. Surely it will be in harmony, then, that the penitent thief will have a reward for his defense of the Master.

That reward will consist, first of all, in the blessing of his own heart through the action therein of the merciful sentiment. A reward will come to him in proportion to the exigencies of the occasion and the greatness of the One whom he loved. If the one who favors a righteous man will receive a righteous man's reward, and the one who favors a prophet will receive a prophet's reward, surely the one who favored the Redeemer will receive a special reward, such as the Redeemer might be expected to grant.

The penitent thief manifested not only sympathy, but honesty. He said to the other, who railed at the Lord, "Dost thou not fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation? And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward for our deeds; but this man hath done nothing amiss." (Luke 23:40, 41.) It is entirely in keeping with the general teachings of the Lord's Word that the honest-hearted and the merciful shall have special blessings. Those blessings cannot reach them in the grave, and it is not always that just returns reach the deserving in the present life. Virtue is not always its own reward.

Our Lord declares the truth on the subject, assuring us that such shall be "recompensed at the resurrection of the just." That is to say, when the just, the justified, the Church, shall have been awakened in the First Resurrection, and when the Heavenly Kingdom shall have been established amongst men, and the general awakening of the world from the sleep of death shall gradually follow, then every good and every evil word, every good and every evil act, will be recompensed—in Paradise.

Let us be glad and rejoice that the Divine arrangement is a Paradise—an earthly Paradise, possible to every member of the race and a Heavenly Paradise, possible to every member of the Spirit-begotten Church; and that the alternative of Paradise is not eternal torment, but everlasting destruction—the Second Death. Finally, every creature in Heaven and earth shall be heard saying, "Blessing, honor, glory and power be unto Him that sitteth upon the Throne, and to the Lamb for ever and ever."

TERRE HAUTE POLICE GUARD STREET CARS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Terre Haute, Ind., Mar. 16.—Street cars were running as usual today with two policemen on each car but very few persons attempted to ride the cars. There were evidences of trouble and the police department was confident of being able to control the situation.

The warning sent here late yesterday by Governor Ralston that 18 companies of militia would be placed here, with little delay, should conditions warrant, had a tendency to preserve order.

Labor union interests centered in the appearance before the federal court in Indianapolis today of union officials who have been active in the organization of the street car men's union, when the matter of any violation of the injunction recently granted the traction company to prevent the calling of a strike was to be taken up. Also an effort to fix the responsibility for the calling of a strike on Saturday night which resulted in a riot when many cars were wrecked and several persons injured, will be made.

GOVERNMENT WILL PROTECT HAWAII SUGAR

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Honolulu, March 16.—If the new tariff law threatens the extinction of Hawaii's sugar industry, measures will be taken by the government to protect it, either by removing the application here of the Chinese exclusion act or by doing away with coast-wise shipping restrictions.

This announcement was made today by Justice Arthur A. Wilder of the Hawaiian supreme court, who has just returned from Washington.

He said the announcement was based on statements made to him by President Wilson.

Judge Wilder was authorized to make a full investigation of the situation and was instructed to report personally to President Wilson.

READJUSTMENT OF LUMBER RATES BY COMMISSION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Washington, March 16.—In a case involving alleged undue discrimination against Louisville, Ky., in favor of other Ohio River crossings, notably Cincinnati, O., in the adjustment of rates on lumber rehandled at those points while on its way from producing territory in the south to destinations in the north and northeast, the interstate commission today held:

"That the question of the absorption of bridge tolls is one largely of policy with the carrier but that the toll may not be absorbed at one crossing and added to the rate at a competitive crossing.

"That northern carriers should continue the absorption of the switching charge on lumber from Covington and Newport, Ky., to Cincinnati or eliminate the bridge toll in the rates from Louisville.

"That rates on lumber from equidistant southeastern territory to Louisville should be one cent less per hundred pounds than those maintained to Cincinnati, New Albany, Indiana, or other north bank crossings.

"That rates from Mississippi valley territory to Louisville should be 3 1-2 cents less than those maintained to Cincinnati from points within 500 miles of Louisville and 2 1-2 cents less from points to a greater distance."

NOT GUILTY

that the cases will not be tried before the middle or end of April.

Members of the civil service commission today acknowledged they are much puzzled to know whether to delay the commission's investigation of alleged civil service irregularities caused by the collection of funds from classified employees, until after the trial of the four indicted men, or to finish the investigation and make their findings before.

Whether actual law violation must be left to the courts to decide, they declared, and they do not feel inclined to bring a civil suit to determine this point, which will be decided by the case now pending.

President S. A. Hoskins of the commission said it is probable the investigation by the commission will not be started again before next week, will occupy most of the time of the commission.

Attorney General Hogan said today after a conference with Henry J. Booth, chief counsel for the indicted men, that he had not decided whether to join the Prosecutor-Turner in the prosecution.

Stories Told About Good St. Patrick

ALTHOUGH England, Scotland, France and Wales each lays claim to having been the country of St. Patrick's birth, he belongs to the Irish and no one else, for all his good works were accomplished among them, and all his traditions are associated with them. He loved Ireland, and Ireland loved him and still adores everything connected with his name. He has done more for the spiritual uplift of the country than any other one who has ministered spiritually to it, and, while there may be many myths and legends associated with him in which he had no part, yet they go to add to the romance and beauty of his character and charm and veneration to his name.

St. Patrick was born about the year 372. When he was sixteen years of age he was stolen by pirates, who sold him into slavery in Ireland, where his master employed him as a swineherd in the mountains of Celeamligh, in the county of Omstreth. Being warned in a dream by God to run away, Patrick set out for a town on the continent.

Advancement in the Church.

Having already passed seven years in Ireland, where he had become perfectly familiar with its language, its manners, habits and customs, he was, of course, well qualified to become a satirist or theologian abroad, which he did and was ordained deacon, priest and bishop, and then once more, by the authority of the pope, he returned to Ireland to preach the gospel to the people he had come to love so well.

A popular legend relates that the saint and his followers found themselves one cold morning on a mountain without a fire to cook their breakfast or warm their frozen limbs. On hearing their complaints Patrick desired them to collect a pile of ice and snowballs, which having been done he breathed upon it, and instantaneously it became a pleasant fire—a fire that long after served to point a poet's conceit in these lines:

St. Patrick, as in legends told,
The morning being very cold,
In order to assuage the weather,
Collected bits of ice together,
Then gently breathed upon the pyre,
When every fragment blazed on fire.
"Oh, if the saint had been so kind
As to have left the gift behind,
To such a lovelorn wretch as me,
Who daily struggles to be free,
I'd be content—content with part—
I'd only ask to thaw the heart,
The frozen heart of Polly Roe!"

The greatest of St. Patrick miracles was that of driving the venomous reptiles out of Ireland and rendering the soil forever after so obnoxious to the serpents that they instantaneously die on touching it. Colgan seriously relates that St. Patrick accomplished this feat by beating a drum, which he struck with such fervor that he knocked a hole in it, thereby endangering the success of the miracle. But an angel appeared, mended the drum, and the patched instrument was long exhibited as a holy relic.

Legend of the Shamrock.

The shamrock, or small white clover, is almost universally worn in the hat over all Ireland on St. Patrick's day. The popular notion is that when St. Patrick was preaching the doctrine of the trinity to the pagan Irish he used this plant, bearing three leaves upon one stem, as a symbol or illustration of the great mystery. To suppose, as some absurdly hold, that he used it as an argument would be derogatory to the saint's high reputation for orthodoxy and good sense. But it is certainly a curious coincidence, if nothing more, that the trefoli, in Arabic, is called "shamrath" and was held sacred in Iran as emblematic of the Persian triads. Pliny, too, in his natural history says that serpents are never seen upon trefoli, and it prevails against the stings of snakes and scorpions.

It is said that in the Galtee or Gallic mountains, situated between the counties of Cork and Tipperary, there are seven lakes, in one of which, called Lough Dilveen, it is said St. Patrick when banishing the snakes and toads from Ireland chained a monster serpent, telling him to remain there till Monday.

The serpent every Monday morning calls out in Irish, "It is a long Monday, Patrick!"

That St. Patrick chained the serpent in Lough Dilveen and that the serpent calls out to him every Monday morning are firmly believed by the lower orders who live in the neighborhood of the lough.

St. Patrick is commonly stated to have died at Saul on the 17th of March, 463, in the one hundred and twenty-first year of his age.

St. Patrick Blessing the Shamrock

Oh, send me some shamrocks from that distant isle
On which Erin's patron and saint still doth smile!
Oh, how I will treasure and fondly lay
Them near to my heart on St. Patrick's day!

Man's Bankruptcy Follows Robbery

(Associated Press Telegram)

New York, March 16.—An aftermath of the reported robbery of Daniel Epner in Chicago recently of $50,000 worth of diamonds, New York creditors today filed an involuntary petition in bankruptcy against Epner's brother, Samuel, a diamond dealer. The petitioners allege that Samuel Epner gave the diamonds to his brother to conceal "with the intent to defraud creditors."

MRS. W. W. LAKE

Tells Others How to Get Strong and Well.

Mrs. W. W. Lake of Aberdeen, Miss., says: "The grippe had left me in a week, run-down condition from which I suffered for some time. I tried different remedies but nothing seemed to do me any good until I took Vinol, from which I received great benefit. My cough is almost entirely gone and I am glad to recommend Vinol to others who suffer as I did."

Mrs. Lake's recovery was due to the combined action of medicinal elements extracted from cod's livers—combined with the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol, and her cough disappeared as a natural result.

We guarantee that Vinol will do all we claim and, will pay back your money if Vinol does not satisfy you.

WILL APPOINT RESERVE BOARD ABOUT APRIL 1

Washington, March 16.—There is said to be no prospect of announcement to reserve cities under the new banking act before April 1 at earliest. The same statement applies to the personnel of the federal reserve board. President Wilson has been informed by the treasury officials that there is little likelihood of the organization necessary as a preliminary to the operations of the board being affected, for at least another two weeks.

Harry S. Fulton Brings to Newark New York Success

The management of the Auditorium was surely elated Saturday when it received a telegram from H. S. Fulton, business manager of the "Lady and the Slipper," featuring Montgomery and Stone, advising them that this attraction was booked in Newark very shortly. Mr. Fulton is a resident of this town, and through his influence Mr. Dillingham finally consented to play the date here. Local theatregoers are familiar with the tremendous hit this attraction made during their engagement in Columbus, and it is safe to say "The Lady and the Slipper" will be the event of the season in Newark.

THE Ancient Language of Ireland

By PATRICK O'SHEA

[Copyright, 1914, by American Press Association.]

BEFORE the Saxons and other Teuton tribes had effected a permanent settlement in England the ancestors of the Irish nation were enjoying the blessings of a Christian civilization. A few centuries before the English language, even in the crudest form, was spoken, Gaelic had blossomed into poetry and eloquence.

Gaelic is admitted by philologists to bear a closer resemblance to the original language of the race than any of the other Celtic dialects. That it has remained unchanged in some respects during more than 2,000 years is evident from the fact, among others, that place names extending from the strait of Dardanelles to the western coast of Europe mean in Gaelic today what they meant to the ancient Celts.

It is now generally admitted among linguists that the Celtic languages stand in a much closer relationship to Latin than any other group. The features that differentiate the Brythonic dialects, comprising Welsh, Breton and Cornish, from the Gaelic dialects, Irish, Scottish, Gaelic and Manx, are supposed to have first appeared after the Romans had left Britain in the year 410. At the beginning of the Christian era the differences between the two groups were probably but slight. Of the Gaelic dialects, to old Irish must be assigned the priority, as both Scottish Gaelic and Manx can be traced back to that original source. Even now the differences between the Gaelic spoken by the Irish and the Scottish Gaels are scarcely greater than those local variations which distinguish the language as spoken in Munster, Connaught and Ulster.

There has been a continuous Gaelic literature from the seventh century, nearly all of it produced in Ireland, though some manuscripts written in that language by Irish missionaries and scholars during that and succeeding centuries are to be found in various European libraries. It was the language which St. Patrick used with such surprising and beneficent effect in converting the ancient Irish from druidism to Christianity. Gaelic was probably a familiar speech to him, even previous to his capture and enslavement in Ireland. That St. Patrick was a thorough master of the language might be inferred from the surprising result of his apostolic labors.

The Gaelic of St. Patrick's time was not the rude, uncultured speech of savages, but a highly developed exponent of thought and feeling, capable of expressing abstract notions as well as ideas limited to the daily exigencies of life. The literary and intellectual activity displayed in Ireland, in a period not long removed from the days of St. Patrick, seems to be only explicable upon the assumption that mental activity and in a certain sense scholarship were not exotics in Ireland, even at the time when St. Patrick labored there.

During the past three decades the Irish have become keenly alive to the importance of preserving their venerable language from complete extinction. Gaelic is now taught in many of the national and parish schools, and an appeal to Irish patriotism in its behalf has not been in vain. Gaelic professorships have been established in Trinity college, Dublin, in the College of St. Patrick at Maynooth and in the University of Edinburgh, while in Oxford, the University of Paris and other prominent seats of learning professorships of the Celtic languages have been established. In the United States Gaelic chairs exist in Harvard university, in the Catholic University of America at Washington and in Notre Dame university of Indiana.

BROTHERS OF ST. PATRICK

The Brothers of St. Patrick, or Patrician Brothers, have played an important part in the educational history of Ireland. According to the Catholic Encyclopedia, this brotherhood was founded by the Right Rev. Dr. Daniel Delaney, bishop of Killdare and Leighton, at Tullow, in the county of Carlow, Ireland, on the feast of the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary in 1808, for the religious and literary education of the youth and the instruction of the faithful in Catholic piety. Ireland was just at that time emerging from the troubled times of penal laws. These laws made it treasonable for a Catholic parent to procure for his child a religious and secular education in consonance with his belief.

The nucleus of this body was chosen from seven young Sunday school teachers in his diocese. In later years filiations were established with other dioceses.

Winters Girl's Whereabouts May Be Ascertained Through Note Found By Newark Man

Writer of Anonymous Letter Threatens to Expose the Whole Affair Unless Paid Money for Disposing of Indiana Girl Who Disappeared from Her Home a Year Ago—Postal Authorities May Act.

"I have already said too much, and I don't propose to say anything more until officers have had an opportunity to investigate the case," said Frank M. Garrison, proprietor of "Garry's" cafe at Fourth and Main streets when asked Monday if he had learned anything new regarding the identity of the letter writer whose name he found in a Fourth street store Saturday. The letter indicated that the writer knew of the whereabouts of Catherine Winters, 10-year-old daughter of Dr. Winters, of New Castle, Ind., who has been missing more than a year. The letter said:

"I have disposed of Catherine Winters according to your orders. Unless you pay me the money I will expose the whole affair."

The letter was addressed to a man but Mr. Garrison refuses to give a name. The matter was taken up by the police department made to communicate with Dr. Winters at New Castle, but he refused to give information whether the letter was in his hand promises to reveal the whereabouts of the girl.

Garrison said he paid little attention, when he saw it on here several people were out. Later he decided to take it in the envelope and the communication was ordinary ruled note paper appearance of being genuine matter was also taken up by postal authorities.

mentioned in the note, disappeared from the streets of New Castle, Ind., a year ago this month and has not been seen since that time by any one who knew her.

She was last seen about noon and at that time had been selling needles in various parts of the city. Simultaneously with her disappearance, a band of gypsies which had been camping on the outskirts of the city, moved on and though the wagon train was followed over various parts of Indiana no trace of the girl was ever found.

Perhaps no search was ever conducted as systematically as has been the hunt for Catherine Winters. Her picture has been published in nearly every newspaper in the United States. One chain of papers has offered a reward of $1000 for information leading to her recovery.

Dr. Winters, the girl's father, has followed hundreds of clues and has spent a fortune traveling to various parts of the country investigating reports which have thus far proved to be false. Only a few weeks ago he made a trip to Middleport, this state, where it was thought the girl had been found.

A few days later he chartered a special train and made a mad dash to Ft. Smith, Ark., where another report that she had been found was proven false.

Garrison was indignant that so much publicity had been given to the finding of the note. He declares that the man to whom the letter was addressed has had ample time to get away, though the police department worked on the case several hours before it became generally known and it was more than 18 hours after the note was found before the story of the finding was published in any paper.

Police Chief Sheridan denied any knowledge of the note when asked concerning the police investigation.

A BILLION

(Continued from Page One.) left his art works, valued at $10,000,000, to the Metropolitan museum. His total estate is supposed to be worth $30,000,000.

Mr. Hearn, another noted art collector, left an estate valued at $10,000,000 besides a notable art collection. The estate of Isaac V. Brokaw is estimated at $5,000,000 and a valuation of $4,227,608 was placed on the estate of Isidor Straus. Henry Flagler, the Florida man, left an estate of $6,000,000.

Other large estates settled during 1913 are those of D. O. Mills, who left about $10,000,000; Edwin Hawley, valued at $2,740,000; less debts of about $4,000,000, and James K. Keene, which is estimated at $20,000,000.

AN OVERBURDENED WIFE

If the work that women do and the pains they suffer could be measured in figures, what a terrible array they would present! Through girlhood, wifehood and motherhood woman toils on, often suffering with backache, pains in side, headaches and nervousness which are tell-tale symptoms of organic derangements which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—made from roots and herbs—can undoubtedly correct. Women who suffer should not give up hope until they have given it a trial.

TRIPLE WEDDING

In fact, some of her friends assert that Mr. King was an accepted suitor before Secretary McAdoo danced his way into her heart. At any rate when the Presidential family established the winter capital at Pass Christian in January Mr. King was made one of the party and was Miss Eleanor's constant escort, both there and at the Mardi Gras gayeties in New Orleans.

Just what happened there and after the return of the family to the White House is only conjecture, but at all events Mr. King thereafter disappeared from the equation.

Propinquity is said to have been a factor in the match. At the state dinners and functions at the White House the Attorney-General and Secretary McAdoo, being the bachelors of the cabinet, were constantly paired off with the White House young women, and most of the time Secretary McAdoo was Miss Wilson's dinner partner.

Several friends of the President's family said today that they expected the wedding of Secretary McAdoo and Miss Eleanor Wilson to be celebrated immediately after Easter, which would enable the White House family to escape months of publicity such as that aroused by Miss Jessie Wilson's engagement to Francis B. Sayre. That engagement was announced in June and the wedding took place in November.

The tango is held responsible for the rapid development of the romance between Miss Eleanor Wilson and Mr. McAdoo. Miss Eleanor Wilson was one of the first girls to take up the dance last spring, and during the year she and Mr. McAdoo have spent most of the time during each ball they have attended dancing together.

Miss Eleanor Wilson is not a college girl, as has been stated, but left school before graduation to become a student at the Academy of fine arts in Philadelphia. She can sew and make hats, and although she is fun-loving and full of gaiety, she is yet of domestic tastes and inclinations.

She has several times followed the bounds with the riding and hunt club members and always attends their fancy exhibition drills. As a real pastime, however, Miss Wilson loves best to walk, or play tennis, and it is thus that she and Secretary McAdoo have spent many late afternoons on mild winter days.
